Networks of International Trade and Investment

Sara Gorgoni (Ed.), University of Greenwich et al.

This book makes a case for the use of network analysis alongside existing techniques in order to investigate pressing issues in international business and economics. The authors put forward a range of studies that examine topics such as the evolution of world trade patterns. Providing an accessible explanation of network analysis, this edited volume is an important contribution to research in international trade and investment.

Political Corruption in a World in Transition

Jonathan Mendilow, Rider University
Éric Phélippeau, Université Paris Nanterre (Eds.)

This book argues that the mainstream definitions of corruption and their key expectations concerning the relationship between corruption, democracy and the process of democratization, require re-examination. The authors identify and offer more exhaustive alternatives to these problems.

Selflessness in Business
Dominika Ochnik (Ed.), University of Opole

This book deals with a controversial and seemingly paradoxical relationship between selflessness and business. It depicts the primary and lasting controversy between the selfish (egoistic, competitive) and selfless (pro-social, co-operative) behavior in view of social, organizational and individual benefits. It aims to reveal possible solutions to present and future challenges and enhance the meaning of positive outcomes of selfless behavior in business and work environments.

THE KNOWLEDGE PLEXUS

“[…] an innovative and thought-provoking book, striving to break new ground in the field of economic geography, with a focus on understanding spatial diversity in economic outcomes.”

Prof. Bernard Fingleton
University of Cambridge
Art, Theory and Practice in the Anthropocene

Julie Reiss (Ed.), Christie’s Education

This book contributes to the growing literature on artistic responses to global climate change and its consequences. Presenting essays by thirteen art historians, art critics, curators, artists and educators, it offers different frameworks for talking about visual representation and the current environmental crisis. The anthology models a range of methodological approaches and contributes to an understanding of how artists and those writing about art construct narratives around the environment.

City of Children
Francesco Tonucci, Institute of Cognitive Sciences and Technologies of the National Research Council

This book proposes a new philosophy of city governance that takes children as the default citizens, with the confidence that a city sensitive to the needs of childhood will hold more benefits for all. Two principle axioms are suggested for optimal city design: the participation of children in city governance and the restitution of their autonomy. It is a translation of “La città dei bambini” and was translated as part of the Bridging Language and Scholarship initiative, extending the reach of this important work to a broader international audience.

Singleness in Britain, 1960-1990
Identity, Gender and Social Change
Emily Priscott

This book contributes to an emerging field of research, looking at the significance of marital status to debates about identity and gender. It examines representations and experiences of single men and women between 1960 and 1990, using a wide variety of sources, including digitized British newspapers, social research, films, and lifestyle literature.

In the making
Digital fabrication and disability
Ursula Kate Hurley, University of Salfords

Using case studies and experiences gained from ground-breaking fieldwork, this book explores the processes and products of digital fabrication from both cultural and aesthetic perspectives, with emphasis on its human interactions. This book poses relevant questions about presence, existence, and authenticity and suggests how we might explore them.

Inspiring air
A history of air-related science
Pere Grapí, Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona

Eudiometers were instruments originally devised for checking the ‘goodness’ of common air. Seeking to be more than just a chronological inventory of eudiometers, this book presents a unique retrospective of these fascinating apparatuses from the end of the eighteenth century to the mid-nineteenth century.

Critique of Authenticity

Thomas Claviez, Britta Sweers, University of Bern Kornelia Imesch, University of Lausanne (Eds.)

The volume provides a critical assessment of the concept of authenticity and gauges its role, significance and shortcomings in a variety of disciplinary contexts. It demonstrates that the alleged desire for authenticity is alive, but comes at a high price, connected to a culture of experts, authority and exclusionary strategies.

Essays in Post-Critical Philosophy of Technology

Mihály Héder, Eszter Nádasi, BME (Eds.)

Philosophy of technology seeks to understand the impact on and meaning of technology for society. This volume applies this branch of philosophical inquiry to both historical and contemporary examples. Challenging past approaches, the selected essays ask, what has been the historical role of technology in social and scientific change? And, how can a ‘post-critical’ approach enhance and extend our understanding of philosophy of technology?

Understanding Political Persuasion
Linguistic and Rhetorical Analysis

Douglas Mark Ponton, University of Catania

This book builds on the consolidated research field of Political Discourse Analysis. It provides an introduction suitable for adoption by those wishing to understand various principles underlying such research, and appreciate how the tools of discourse analysis might be applied to actual texts. It summarizes previous work in the field by authorities such as Halliday, Wodak, and others, providing the would-be analyst with practical ideas for their own research.

Diary as Literature
Through the Lens of Multiculturalism in America
Angela R. Hooks (Ed.)

Presented as a collection of academic essays and creative writing, this book analyzes diary writing in its many forms from oral diaries and memoirs to letters and travel writing. The authors bring a range of expertise to this quasi-literary genre including comparative and transatlantic literature, composition and rhetoric, history, and women and gender studies.

Editorial values and standards
A work’s contribution to knowledge, irrespective of approach or perspective, is the central criterion of our acquisition process. Importantly, our acquisitions are driven by their research impact and current academic trends rather than saleability. Peer review, in-house editorial expertise and collaboration with advisory editors ensure our titles are relevant and of a high academic standard. Our commitment to scholarship has been recognized with inclusion in the lists of academic publishers maintained by the Spanish National Research Council, the Finnish Publication Forum and the Norwegian Centre for Research Data.

Individual attention
We care for and pay attention to the needs of each of our authors. We are responsive to author queries and strive to keep you up to date with manuscript’s progress towards publication. We only enlist qualified and sufficiently motivated experts to review your work and guide them to offer constructive criticism. This ensures that peer reviews are thorough, constructive and respectful of your effort as an author.

Maximum exposure
We work closely with our industry and academic community partners to understand current trends and market our titles appropriately. Besides traditional book marketing, we make extensive use of digital marketing tools and are able to work with authors on promotional activities. All our books are also published as e-books and paperbacks. As reported in WorldCat, our books are held by academic libraries worldwide. Our books are also available through a wide range of specialized resellers, e-book aggregators, select academic bookshops and online retailers such as Amazon and Barnes and Noble.

No cost burden & flexibility about sharing
It’s simple: we never charge authors for publishing - no hidden fees, no surprises. Our no-charge promise reflects our confidence in commissioning only high-quality works, the quality of our production and the efficiency of our workflow. Authors of monographs are offered complimentary copies of their book and all authors can purchase additional copies at a 40% discount.
PRICING & DISCOUNTS
All our authors get generous discounts across the range of our titles. Discounts are also available for bulk purchases or as part of long-term agreements with academic associations, university libraries and major resellers.

CHANNELS
You can order directly from our website or with major academic distributors, including YBP, EBSCO e-books, ProQuest, Brodart, Ingram, Nielsen and Amazon. For bulk orders please contact accounts@vernonpress.com to set up a trade account.
